

Beacon under repair

A helicopter prepares to remove the top lamp house section of Cape Pogue lighthouse on Chappaquiddick Island off Martha's Vineyard on Monday. The lamp was flown to Falmouth, Mass., and transported to Connecticut for refurbishment. The solar-powered lighthouse, built in the early 1800s, is undergoing renovations for about one month.